Partly new – and completely groundbreaking. China ' s pledge to reach peak carbon emissions by 2030 is not new but has been submitted as part of its unconditional Nationally Determined Contributions (NDCs), as China ratified the Paris Agreement back in 2016. In his recent speech, this pledge remains essentially the same: President Xi states that

This twist on a classic has a new setting, more dimension, and wonderful art to draw kids into the story. The Chinese Emperor's New Clothes does more than expose a ruler's vanity and his people's urge to go along with whatever he says, despite what they see with their own eyes. Here, the boy ruler is honest,

They wanted people to see that they were busy finishing the emperor ' s new clothes. They pretended to take the cloth from the loom, and worked about in the air with big scissors, and sewed with needles without thread. At last they said: " The emperor ' s new clothes are ready now. " The emperor and all his barons then came to the hall.
